

MINDS EYE ENTERTAINMENT ANNOUNCES STAFFING CHANGES

February 4th, 2013 (Regina, CANADA) – Minds Eye Entertainment, one of the largest film and television production companies in Western Canada, announces David Cormican’s departure from the position of Head of Development. Cormican will be leaving to pursue additional independent production opportunities in both film and television.

“I am thankful for four and a half successful years working with David. Minds Eye and the province of Saskatchewan have benefited from his skill and dedication to the industry and community. I wish him every success in his future endeavours”, says the company’s President and CEO Kevin DeWalt.

During a three-month transition period Cormican will continue to provide development consulting services to Minds Eye while passing his current responsibilities to Diane Robinson. For the past year Robinson has held the position of Senior Development Officer with the company and has been promoted as Cormican’s replacement.

Minds Eye is also pleased to announce the promotion of Danielle Masters to Production Executive. Masters joined Minds Eye in 2008 and has held several titles during this time including Production/Post-Production Coordinator and Associate Producer.

“It’s very rewarding for me to see our employees’ careers grow as they assume prominent industry positions. It’s a wonderful testament to the quality and caliber of the roster of individuals we have on our team”, says DeWalt.
