

QME ENTERTAINMENT AND VMI WORLDWIDE UNVEIL
OFFICIAL POSTER FOR BERLIN BOUND ACTION THRILLER “DAUGHTER OF THE WOLF”

QME Entertainment announces official U.S. release ahead of international sales at Berlin’s European Film Market

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

LOS ANGELES (February 7, 2019) - QME Entertainment, and VMI Worldwide, have released the official poster for the highly anticipated action thriller DAUGHTER OF THE WOLF. Starring Richard Dreyfuss, Gina Carano and Brendan Fehr, the film hits theaters in the U.S. on May 10, 2019.

QME Entertainment is distributing the film in North America while VMI Worldwide will launch international sales on the new title at the upcoming European Film Market in Berlin. Due to high demand of the picture, VMI has already brokered deals in the following territories: Italy (Funwood), Spain (Mediaset), Asia Pay TV (Fox), China (Times Vision), Australia/NZ (Eagle Entertainment), Korea (Double & Joy), Middle East (Phoenicia), Greece (Spentzos).

QME co-founder Kevin DeWalt of Minds Eye Entertainment says, “We are ecstatic at how the film has come together and elated to bring it to U.S. audiences this May. In a rousing time for female leads, Gina Carano delivers a nuanced performance. Doing the bulk of her own stunt work, she created a character who exudes both physical and mental strength. It was also a thrill to work with the incredible film icon Richard Dreyfuss who played our villain so magnificently.”

VMI Worldwide President Andre Relis added “We’re delighted to present the film for buyers during the market and highlight the incredible action sequences and the compelling fight Clair (Carano), embarks on to save her son.”

After the death of a family member, ex-military specialist, Clair Hamilton, returns home from her tour in the Middle East. When word spreads about Clair’s large inheritance, her son Charlie is kidnapped and held for ransom by a local gang led by a mysterious figure known only as “Father”. Desperate to save her son, Clair captures one of his kidnappers and forces him to lead her on a perilous journey deep into the Alaska Mountains. To rescue her son, she must form an unlikely alliance with the kidnapper and survive the wild of the far North.

Dreyfuss (Jaws, Mr. Holland’s Opus) stars as “Father” and Carano (Haywire, Fast & Furious 6) as Clair Hamilton. Fehr (Final Destination, “Roswell”) plays Larsen, the kidnapper turned hostage. Rounding out the cast is Anton Gillis-Adelman (“Designated Survivor,” Birthmarked) as Clair’s son Charlie and Sydelle Noel (“Glow,” Black Panther) as villainous kidnapper, Hobbs.

DAUGHTER OF THE WOLF is directed by David Hackl (Saw V) and written by Nika Agiashvili (Tbilisi, I Love You). It is produced by Kevin Dewalt (Forsaken, The Tall Man), Danielle Masters (Forsaken, Wolfcop) and Benjamin Dewalt (The Recall, The Humanity Bureau) of Minds Eye Entertainment along with Doug Falconer (The Warrior’s Way, Forsaken) of Falconer Pictures and VMI Worldwide in association with Invico Capital and The Fyzz Facility. Executive Producers include Andre Relis, Jason Brooks, Allison Taylor, Wayne Marc Godfrey, Robert Jones, Robert Bricker, Marcel Leblanc, Charles Saikaley, Tamer Abaza, Craig Baumgarten, Berry Meyerowitz, Nika Agiashvili and David Hackl.

DAUGHTER OF THE WOLF is the third co-venture for Minds Eye Entertainment and QME Entertainment who released the Nicolas Cage Sci-Fi Action Thriller, The Humanity Bureau and the Christina Ricci/ John Cusack Psychological Thriller, Distorted in 2018. This is also the third film in a six-picture production slate for Minds Eye Entertainment and VMI Worldwide.
